DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1- 11, and 22, 23, drawn to a large circular nucleic acid containing target specific antisense region, classified in class 536, subclass 24.5.
- II. Claims 12- 21, and 24, 25 drawn to a method for inhibiting the expression of protein(s), classified in class 514, subclass 44.

If applicant elects Group II, then they must select a specific protein(s) to be used in the method from the cancer or viral proteins or metabolic disease or immunological condition from the ones listed in the claims.

- III. Claim 26, drawn to a method to make a large circular nucleic acid containing target specific antisense region, classified in class 435, subclass 91.1.
- IV. Claims 27- 29, drawn to a method to screen for gene function, classified in class 435, subclass 6.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II, IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product can be used to inhibit protein expression or assay for gene function.

Inventions II and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are drawn to different methods with different steps, different steps and different end results.

Inventions I and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the method to make can be used to make template to carry out single strand mutagenesis (Kunkel Method).

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, different classifications, non-overlapping search areas and different methods, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143). If Applicant elects Group II, then one of the patentably distinct species must be named to complete the inventive Group. Each antisense to a cancer or viral protein or metabolic disease or immunological condition would be considered a distinct invention because each is drawn to inhibiting the expression of a different protein and for example, the protein involved in a specific cancer treatment would not be expected to be the same for all cancers or viral protein or metabolic diseases or immunological conditions.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
